This is the landing page. Click Main to get to the actual content

This is the main page. Enter a tag and click submit to load images with that tag from instagram

After loading some tags your screen should look something like this

Click on a picture and you will be taken to the mosaic page. For now it just shows the average colors of the subpictures. These will be replaced with other pictures with similar average colors and the same tag